Location

The market town of Neukirchen am Großvenediger is located in the uppermost part of the Salzach Valley between the Hohe Tauern in the south and the Kitzbühel Alps in the north in the "Hohe Tauern" National Park.

The village at 856 meters above sea level has developed from the former Kirchweiler on the debris cone of the Wiesbach until today, to the market town with about 2934 inhabitants and a sought-after vacation destination. In summer, a variety of sports and leisure activities as well as various mountain events are offered. In winter, the Wildkogel ski arena - with, among other things, the world's longest illuminated toboggan run - is right on the doorstep. Other ski areas, such as the Zillertalarena or Kitzski (Kitzbüheler Bergbahnen) with the panoramic cable car in just a few minutes drive away.
